

Privacy Policy

In addition to reviewing this Privacy Policy, please read our Terms and Conditions. Your use of the Elim Christian Fellowship website constitutes your agreement to our terms and conditions. It is our goal to bring you information that may be tailored to your needs and, at the same time, protect your privacy. Here are the various ways we treat the information you provide to us while using our site:

Type of Information Collected and how it is used

Personal information is information that personally identifies you, including, for example, your name, address, and email address.

This policy only addresses our activities from our servers. Other sites (including those that we link to and third party sites or services which we co-brand, such as email) may have their own policies, which we do not control, and thus are not addressed by this policy. You provide certain personal information to us when you: (a) register for our Services, (b) sign up for special offers from selected third parties, (c) enter contests sponsored by us or one of our partners, (d) send email messages, submit forms or send other information to us, (e) use or purchase goods and services through us or one of our partners.

We may collect personal information from you at other points on our site that state that personal information is being collected. We may also receive certain personal information from some of our co-branded third party partners. Our servers automatically collect information about which sites users visit and which pages are viewed within this website. Elim Christian Fellowship uses this information to provide you with the service you have requested and to build our site to further meet the needs of our users. While your individual information is protected, we reserve the right to use aggregated, anonymous data about our users as a group for any business purpose, such as analyzing usage trends and seeking compatible advertisers and partners, as well as to maximize our exposure over the internet. Elim Christian Fellowship will not sell or share our users' personal information without your consent.

There may be an occasion when we are legally required to provide personal information in order to cooperate with police investigations or other legal proceedings. In those instances, the information is provided only for that purpose.

Cookies

COOKIES "Cookies," are bits of information that are placed by a website in a storage place on your own computer. We use cookies to track usage patterns on this website, to deliver editorial content, and to record registration and personalization information.

If you don't want cookies, your web browser likely includes an option that allows you to not accept them. However, if you set your browser to refuse cookies, some portions of this website may not function properly.

IP ADDRESS

Your Internet Protocol ("IP") address is usually associated with the place from which you enter the Internet, like your Internet Service Provider, your company or your university. We may use your IP address to help diagnose problems with our server, gather broad demographic information, and administer our website.

Children

Children under the age of 18 are not eligible to use our services, and we ask that such persons not submit personal information to us. We believe that is important that parents supervise their children when they are online. As a result, we require that children under the age of 18 use this service only in conjunction with parents or guardians.

These Privacy Conditions May Change

We may find the need to modify this Privacy Policy from time to time; but, we'll list the date of the most recent revisions on this page, so please check back often. Continued access of this website by you will constitute your acceptance of any changes or revisions to this Privacy Policy.
